ASSESSMENTS ON REAL ESTATE JUMP $736,801

Adams county property values have increased by more than $2,000,000, according to the 1952 assessment figures.

The assessment sheet, completed today by the office of the county commissioners, shows an increase in the assessed valuation of the county's real estate of $736,801. Much of that increase, according to the returns made by the assessors, is based on new construction during the year. Assessment valuations range from about 17 to 35 percent of actual value of properties which would indicate that the actual increase in valuation would be something over $2,000,000.

Sale of school houses throughout the county is reflected in a decline of the exempt real estate in the assessment figures, a drop from $3,984,447 to $3,540,520. Cumberland township, which contains most of the battlefield, still is listed as having the most exempt real estate, a total of $311,950, among districts outside Gettysburg.

Gettysburg leads the county in exempt real estate, with a total of $2,814,172, the assessed valuation of the many churches, schools, the college and seminary in the borough, as well as the post office and other federal land.

The assessment figures show that more than half the people in the county are listed as taxpayers. The total number of taxpayers for the county is listed as 29,114, of which 26,665 are residents and 2,449 are persons living elsewhere who own property here.

2 Autos Collide Thursday Afternoon

Automobiles owned and operated by Charles E. Myers, 17, of Foundry avenue, Littlestown, and Ralph R. Kunkel, 37, of Littlestown R. 1, collided on the Hanover-Abbottstown highway four miles north of Hanover at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Police said both cars were traveling south. Myers attempted to make a left turn into a private driveway at the same time that Kunkel was attempting to pass, police said. Damage to the Myers car was estimated at $15 and to the Kunkel car at $60. No one was injured.

NEW SCHOOL LAW MAY STIMULATE MUCH BUILDING

Governor Pine's signature on House Bill 163, affixed Monday night, may lead to construction totaling more than $1,500,000 in Adams county.

That has been revealed with the receipt here by school officials of copies of the bill which provides for the state to pay certain amounts toward rental of school buildings constructed by municipal authorities or similar organizations.

Previously the state paid reimbursement for rentals only on school buildings constructed only under the state authority.

Payments Would Vary

Under the new law, the state, beginning with the 1951-52 year will pay a percentage of the rental based on the reimbursement fractions of the various school districts. Those amounts, under the law would vary from about 20 percent for Gettysburg to about 64 percent in the case of Strasburg and several other townships in the county.

The bill provides for payment of 51 percent of the reimbursement fraction to school districts with reimbursement fractions up to .5999. Above that figure the amount to be paid will be the square of the reimbursement fraction.

Many Projects Pending

A check of the school districts reveals that Gettysburg joint district has been discussing plans for an addition to the high school, here and a 20-room elementary center; New Oxford has been discussing an addition to its high school; Littlestown has been considering a new 16-room elementary center; York Springs plans a new high school, as does East Berlin, where there are plans to turn the present high school into an elementary center.

It was pointed out that in all probability not all of the structures will be put up within the next few years. But the various school boards have been discussing the plans and were waiting the approval of the law before going ahead with serious consideration, in some cases, of the construction problems. Passage of the law, schoolmen said, makes it more likely that the boards will complete the plans they have expressed as "desirable" before.

Deardorff's Burnt Mill Covered Bridge

This one, the westernmost of the three, is County Bridge No. 74 on the map published in The Gettysburg Times January 1. It is known as Deardorff's bridge, or Deardorff's burnt mill bridge. A mill once stood close by the 111 foot, seven-inch single span over Opossum creek. The bridge is located in Butler township.

Although not difficult to reach from either the Harrisburg or the Biglerville roads, or better still, from the Old Carlisle road through Table Rock, it is located in a rural setting similar to several other old covered bridges in the county.

Opossum creek makes a wide bend after passing under this bridge, and is crossed a short distance away by the middle of the three bridges, known as Stone Jug Bridge, County Bridge No. 75. The bridge farther east, County Bridge 76 on the map, Stone Jug No. 1, spans Conewago creek.

Fisherman drop their lines in the quiet-flowing Opossum, and children and adults gather nuts in the woods in this section in the fall of the year. Cattle graze along the nearby banks, and are driven home to old stone barns and stone houses in their neighborhood.

The motorist who leaves Lincoln Square and drives north on Carlisle street and the Biglerville road, Route 34, should take the right fork a mile north of town on the Old Carlisle road, through Table Rock. Just at the outskirts, take Legislative Route No. 01005 to Bender's church and turn to the right, on a gravel and earth road.

Those who would rather approach from the east may take the Harrisburg road, Route 15, north about seven miles to the Thomas store, and turn left, going over the hill on a macadam road which turns into a gravel and earth road farther on, before coming to the first of the three bridges. P-T PLANS TO HOLD CONTEST ON ATTENDANCE

The attendance at next Thursday evening's meeting of the Gettysburg area Parent-Teacher association, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln school building, will be counted for the first time in plans to initiate an attendance contest.

The contest will be discussed, and the membership given an opportunity to vote on the rules. Kenneth P. Hull, president of the PTA, will preside.

Plans call for basing the contest on the percentage of parents in attendance at meetings. Each parent will count one point for each child in whatever grade he attends school. The room with the highest percentage of attendance at PTA meetings will receive $20; second highest, $10, and third highest, $5.

Plan Sectional Meetings

The prize money will go to the schoolroom to be used at the discretion of the teacher for materials needed in the school. Mrs. Charles S. Smith, program chairman, will be in charge of Thursday evening's program.

After the general business meeting, three sectional meetings will be held. Mrs. Norman E. Richardson will lead a discussion on the interpretation given report cards by parents. Mrs. Smith will be in charge of a discussion of budgeting the use of leisure time. The third section, on classroom health, what it means and its objectives, will be led by Mrs. C. A. Sholt.

Crosby N. Hartzell, chairman of the ways and means committee, has announced plans for a PTA rummage sale to be held in the rear of Sherman's clothing store, York street, February 1 and 2. Parents and teachers are asked to send materials for the sale to the schools by their children, January 28 through January 31.

SCHEDULE FIVE HOME MEETINGS

A roller skating party sponsored by the county 4-H council and meetings of five home economics groups next week were announced today by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics representative.

Meetings of home economics groups include, Monday, 7:30 p.m., New Oxford at the home of Mrs. J. L. Myers, with the meeting to be on lining and designing dresses; Tuesday, 1:30 p.m., Harrisburg road, "wardrobe planning" at the home of Mrs. Charles Spicer; Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., Littlestown, "oven meals" with Mrs. Paul King; Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., Oak Grove, "buying food wisely," Mrs. Fred King; Friday, 1:30 p.m., Good Hope, "color combinations for the home," Mrs. Howard Guise.

Miss Mickey will be one of the judges Thursday morning at the annual cherry pie baking contest held at Gettysburg high school.

Here And There News Collected At Random

We thought you might enjoy, as we did, this fascinatingly true editorial published recently in the New York Herald Tribune.

Being unable to take a Southern cruise, having no steamer chairs in his barn nor flamingoes in his henhouse, a countryman on a cold night can fall back upon vicarious voyaging offered him by colorful travel folders. In these he reads about "blue lagoons which glass tropic skies" and finds that they can be reached smoothly by means of a rakish funnel, white decks and a daily game or two of shuffleboard. Poetry, he has heard, is profoundly influenced by the sun, and a poet's pen seems to have played about pages which alluringly describe golden beaches, avenues of tall palms and vast hotels under whose palace domes Kubla Khan might have appropriately reserved a room and bath.

All these delights are contained in bright isles never washed by a boisterous winter Atlantic, but peacefully caressed by that evocative current known as the Gulf Stream. Listening to tire chains slapping an icy road, a man tries to transform these native sounds into waves tenderly lapping warm sands. But his imagination—he is a little sleepy, anyway—(Continued on Page 2)

45 Egyptians And British Are Killed In Ismailia Fighting

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 25 (AP)—British troops and tanks fired through smoke screens today in a six-hour battle to disarm all Egyptian police in the major Suez Canal trouble spot of Ismailia. At least 42 police and three British troops were reported killed in bloody fighting.

Fighting began at dawn. The British said it ended shortly after noon with the collapse of police resistance. The police in their headquarters, ringed by 1,500 British troops with tanks and other heavy weapons, were outnumbered about two to one.

Egyptian Interior Minister Fouad Serag El Din Pasha had ordered the police to "resist to the end, meeting force with force."

Many Surrender

An interior ministry spokesman said Serag El Din personally directed the Egyptian side of the operation by telephone.

Between 500 and 600 police fled out of the headquarters building and surrendered shortly after noon. Two hours earlier, Lancashire Fusiliers moved in under a smoke screen and captured between 200 and 300 others who had been sniping from the Egyptian health center a block away.

The Egyptian cabinet was summoned into an emergency meeting. A reliable informant said it may consider making a full break in diplomatic relations with Britain because of the Ismailia fight today.

Ismailia has been the center of intense British and Egyptian clashes for a week. During a battle Saturday an American nun was killed. Britain's main military headquarters in the Suez Canal zone is located just outside the city.

The British ordered the Egyptian police to lay down their arms this morning. They said the Egyptians were guilty of "unprovoked attacks" and the police had "failed to maintain order."

The British said their drive was aimed particularly at 800 to 1,000 auxiliary police who flocked into the city to aid the regular police in mid-October when trouble first broke out in the Suez Canal zone.

The British charged the auxiliaries incited and fought in canal zone skirmishes and joined guerrillas in the Saturday battle in which the nun was killed.

80 DONORS GIVE BLOOD TO R. C. BY NOON TODAY

Gettysburg seemed near its most successful Blood Donor day so far in the current series today, with more than 80 donors having contributed a pint of blood apiece at the Red Cross center in Christ Lutheran church up to 1 o'clock.

Indications were that the day would achieve its goal of better than 150 pints for the day. At the last session here 95 pints were given.

Throughout the morning, donors flowed in a steady stream through the process that precedes the giving of blood for us by the armed forces. Ten persons who were not listed to give donations, but who dropped in to the center to see if they could help, filled gaps left by persons who were rejected, or who failed to appear at the time scheduled for them to give blood.

Persistent Donor Succeeds

One donor, who was turned down earlier in the morning, checked with her own doctor to find out whether she was fit to give blood and came back to donate a pint. She was accepted on her physician's say-so. Following its usual procedure, the Red Cross officials turn down anyone when there is a possibility (Continued on Page 2)

Gen. And Mrs. Nevins Return From Europe

Gen. and Mrs. Arthur S. Nevins have returned to the Eisenhower farm, Gettysburg R. 2, after a visit of seven weeks in England and Europe. Miss Mary Ann Nevins, their daughter, accompanied them from England to France where they spent the Christmas holidays with Gen. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower at Marnes-La-Coquette, near Paris. Miss Nevins returned to Girton college at Cambridge university, Cambridge, Eng., after her vacation. Winner of a Fulbright scholarship, she is studying for the degree of doctor of philosophy in English.

After the holidays, Gen. and Mrs. Nevins toured France, Switzerland and Germany. They arrived here Tuesday after returning to America by ship.

YOUTH ADMITS FORGING CHECKS

A 16-year-old Gettysburg R. 5 youth sought by borough police for forging four checks was caught Thursday afternoon because he ate pumpkin pie for breakfast, according to police. Because he is a juvenile, his name is being withheld.

Police said the youth admitted after questioning Thursday afternoon that he had forged the name of a New Oxford boy to four checks on the Farmers and Merchants bank, New Oxford, totaling $106.77.

Two of the checks were cashed at the First National Bank of Gettysburg; one at the Adams Electric Cooperative, North Stratton street, where he paid a bill, and one at Hanes shoe store, Baltimore street. Bank officials identified him when he was taken to the bank Thursday afternoon. He was released in the custody of his parents for a hearing in juvenile court.

Police said that when they started looking for the alleged forger, they did not know his name, but had a good description of the youth. Information received at a local drug store revealed that a boy often came there mornings and had pumpkin pie for breakfast. His description coincided with that previously received by the police.

REC BOARD TO MEET

A meeting of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Recreation association will be held Wednesday night, January 30, at 7:30 o'clock in the law offices of Swope, Brown and Swope, Baltimore street, according to notices sent out by the secretary, Mahlon P. Hartzell.

Allies Suggest Three Plans To Speed Korean Armistice; 10 Migs Downed By Yanks

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 25 (AP)—Daring American Sabre jet pilots shot down at least 10 Red jets in four flaming air battles over northwest Korea today.

Two Communist MIG-15s exploded almost in the faces of American pilots. The blast blew out the jet power in two Sabres, and the Americans had to go into long dives before their jets flamed into action again.

Two other Reds spiraled down in fiery streamers. A fifth went down in long loops, its pilot still trying to regain control, and exploded as it hit the ground.

10 Red Jets Destroyed

It was one of the biggest jet victories of the war.

The Fifth Air Force announced 10 Russian-type jets were definitely destroyed, one probably destroyed and three damaged.

American losses, if any, in today's four battles were not announced. U. S. air casualties are reported weekly.

The air war grew in fury as the day wore on while the ground war lay relatively quiet under a blanket of fresh snow. Here's the story of the air battles, all fought in MIG alley:

1. One Red jet damaged in a morning fight between 18 F-86 Sabre jets and elements of a flight of 30 MIGs.

2. Two Red jets blown up, one set afire, one damaged when 15 Sabres jumped 16 MIGs near the Yalu river in the afternoon.

3. Five MIGs destroyed, one damaged by 17 Sabres who took on elements of a formation of 80 Reds late in the afternoon.

4. Three MIGs destroyed at about the same time in a five-minute battle between 18 Sabres and 25 MIGs.

Small Ground Fights

On the ground a series of fights broke out along the western front between Allied patrols and Chinese units of about company size. The U. S. Eighth army described them as light engagements.

Limited actions also broke out in the snow-covered ridges of the east. The only specific action reported in a U.N. communique was a five-minute probing attack by a squad of Communists near the Punch Bowl.

Suggests Three Plans Friday Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner

Friday Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner asked the Reds to choose one of three possible courses of action:

1. Continue subcommittee discussions while staff officers start work on points already agreed upon in principle.

2. Call a temporary recess until the staff officers complete their work.

3. Turn over the airfield issue to the staff officers for discussion after they agree on other points.

"We are willing to accept your recommendations as to which of the alternative actions the subdelegates should pursue," Turner said. "We submit this course of action in a sincere desire to make progress in these negotiations and bring them to a successful conclusion in a minimum amount of time."

Face Tough Problems

If the Communists accept one of the proposed courses of action, staff officers would face some tough problems. They include:

1. Limits to be placed on rotation of troops and replacement of equipment and material.

2. Definition of ports of entry to be inspected.

3. Actual ports of entry to be checked by neutral inspection teams.

4. Personnel and operation of the armistice commission.

5. Composition of inspection teams.

6. Relationship of the armistice commission to the inspection teams.

7. Details of withdrawing troops from the buffer zone and from offshore islands.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby emerged from a stormy two hours and 40 minute session of the prisoner exchange subcommittee to tell newsmen: "We caught hell."

There was no progress, but Nuckols said "at least the Communists began today to talk about specifics rather than broad generalities."

100 COUPLES AT EAGLES' DANCE

Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562, Fraternal Order of Eagles, marked the second night of its 45th anniversary celebration Thursday when approximately 100 couples attended the dance, held in the lodge home on Chambersburg street.

Three of the six living active charter members of the aerie were present: Charles W. Myers, Benton D. Gilbert and Harry C. Gilbert. Prizes were awarded during the evening to Herbert McKenrick and Thomas Harbaugh.

"Hillbilly Night"

Announcement was made that Bowman's orchestra will return to the Eagles on March 21 for a St. Patrick's Day dance.

Tonight will be "hillbilly" night at the Eagles home, with old-fashioned square dances, prizes for costumes and music by the Backboard Ramblers. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Saturday night will be "old timers'" night. Holman Lee's orchestra will furnish music for dancing; anniversaries will be observed and there will be entertainment of various kinds. The Eagles' auxiliary of Coatesville will present a musical show Sunday afternoon and music on the Hammond organ will be furnished by Howard Sheetz afternoon and evening.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ALWAYS GO ON!
All of us—at some time or other—arrive at the point where we wonder what to do next. Well, the safest plan is to decide then and there—to go on! Often, before we realize the fact, a solution faces us. And nearly always that solution proves to be the obvious thing to do.
My friend Bob Updegraff once wrote a wonderful story entitled "Obvious Adams" (in which a chap in the organization (an advertising concern), after everyone had had his talk, suggested they do the obvious thing, which he stated—and with one accord that plan was adopted!).
When we get stumped we are apt to get confused and fearful, and this always means a lowering of our courage and a dampening of our initiative. That is no time in which to quit or get discouraged, but to go on, anyway. When problems came up to such men as Edison, Ford, and the Wrights, as well as to every man of action, the uppermost idea in the mind of each was always to go on. That one decision has meant the success of every notable man or woman, in whatever his or her heart was set upon.
In disappointment, sorrow, or even temporary failure, never mind—always go on, and the light is sure to appear at some distance ahead. Things looked mighty dark after Pearl Harbor, but, luckily for America, there was a handful of brave men in the Pacific area, headed by General MacArthur, who, with what they had, put themselves to the task of facing the conditions courageously. The whole world now knows the story. Once the start of General MacArthur's return to the Philippines was initiated, it then became a matter of always going on until victory was finally achieved.
Never say die. Always go on! It is amazing how this spirit changes everything. Difficulties, bravely faced, grow less you do go on. You become doubly inspired. Even in the face of sorrow and adversity, to go on is the wisest plan. Columbus thought it worth while and so sailed on and on, thus opening up a new world!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Soil of the Soul." Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service.

Lebanon Valley Quint Here Saturday To Meet Bullets
Lebanon Valley college's Flying Dutchmen, who have been living up to their nickname, come here Saturday evening to meet the Gettysburg college basketball team in what promises to be a high and free scoring game.
The Dutchmen, according to spectators, have one of the fastest breaking teams in this area and literally fly all over the court from end to end. They are rated as one of the strongest small college teams in this area.
Coach Ralph Mease's team has compiled a 2-2 record for the season and has defeated Indiantown Gap, 77-71; Western Maryland, 76-66; Dickinson, 62-63; Juniata, 85-85; Elizabethtown, 54-44; Susquehanna, 84-44, and Scranton. The Dutchmen bowed only to Muhlenberg, 82-86, and Albright, 75-77.
Don Langstaff, 6-3 center, is captain of the squad and is a certain starter. Two freshmen, Herb Pinkelstein, 6-foot forward, and Howard Landis, 5-10 guard, are also scheduled to start with Leon Miller, 6-1 forward, and Louis Sorrentino, 5-10 guard, rounding out the group.
Coach "Hen" Bream's Bullets will be out to rebound following their surprise upset at the hands of Lehigh at Bethlehem last Saturday night.
The Bullets, who are 6-3 for the season, will probably start with George Hare, forward, Watson, Tom Ketterman, Bob Pizolato and Mike Resanovich. Among the first line replacements will be Gene Coder, Joe Lang, Jack Keller and Johnny Habsbee.
Following Saturday's game the Bullets will again be idle for a week, meeting Muhlenberg at Allentown on February 2.

BLANK TO STAY AT WEST POINT AS GRID COACH
West Point, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP)—Col. Earl (Red) Blank will remain in command of army's gridiron forces, but don't look for any miracles when the Cadets take to the football field this fall.
Speculation whether Blank would be back this fall ended yesterday with an announcement by Major General Frederick A. Irving, superintendent of the United States Military Academy.
Gen. Irving said Blank would remain as both football coach and athletic director, positions he has held since coming to the Point from Dartmouth in 1941.
Blank added after talking with Gen. Irving:
"I intend to remain at the military academy as long as I can be of service."
Rumored Was Leaving
Off-printed reports had Blank, crushed by the honor code scandal that cost him most of his 1951 football team, including his son, Bob, contemplating leaving for another football post or a position in the business world.
The veteran coach, whose Army teams had won 77 games, lost 18 and tied six in 11 years, was quick to point out, however, that his decision to remain at the academy doesn't mean that Army's football fortunes will improve immediately.
"In fact," Blank said, "I'll be happy if we do as well this fall as we did last year." Army defeated only Columbia and the Citadel of its nine 1951 opponents and was whipped by Navy, 42-7.
Blank pointed out next fall's team will be much the same as last year, except for some half-dozen players who will graduate.
No Over-emphasis
"I don't know if we'll be permitted to use plebes," he added, "and if we are, there still are very few who can carry the heavy class work required and still play varsity ball their first year here."
Gen. Irving said he considers athletics an integral part of training, but there will be no over-emphasis at West Point.
"Col. Blank fully supports the athletic policy of the military academy," the statement said, adding: "The policy, as in the past, will require all intercollegiate participants to abide by the same regulations, to take the same courses, to measure up to the same standards, and to have the same obligations as those who do not compete in varsity athletics."

Mechanicsburg Jr. Hi Here Tonight
Victors in three of their four games to date, the Gettysburg junior high dribblers will go after their fourth victory here tonight when Mechanicsburg will be met on the high school floor.
At 6:45 the jayvee teams will meet. Gettysburg has won one in four starts.
L-TOWN JUNIOR HIGH TRIUMPHS
Littlestown junior high defeated the Biglerville junior high court team 30-17 in a game played at Littlestown Thursday.
The victors trailed 5-2 in the first period but took a 14-8 lead at half-time and went on to win by a substantial margin.
Kump, Showmaker, and Selby each tallied eight points for Littlestown while Day netted seven for Biglerville.

DEWEY ASSERTS U. S. COURTING "CATASTROPHE"

New York, Jan. 25 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in a soberly worded warning, said last night that the free world is courting catastrophe if it fails to take prompt action against aggression in southeast Asia.

He repeated again his months-old demand for a mutual defense treaty of free Pacific nations.

"We should make it clear that we will not hesitate to use every weapon at our command and every weapon we may develop in the future in the manner that hurts the aggressor most."

"If we do not issue such a warning," the two-time Republican candidate for president added, "I believe we will have war."

Dewey, who traveled widely last summer in the Far East, called attention to the fact that the United States is committed to the defense of Japan, the Philippine Islands, Australia and New Zealand.

"But, as it stands today, we have guaranteed either too much or too little," he said.

Foresees Red Invasion

Poised for an invasion of southeast Asia, the New York governor said, are a quarter million seasoned Red Chinese troops.

Of this threat to Burma and Indochina, he said:

"If we wait for an attack by Red China upon southeast Asia and then take the case to the United Nations, the Russians will stalemate action until all is lost."

"If the free world does not take action to prevent that Chinese invasion, I make the prophecy that the world will face the greatest catastrophe of our time."

"Three hundred million people—twice the population of the United States—would be lost to Communism."

"Raw materials essential to our survival would fall into the hands of the Soviet."

And, he warned, "the defense of America would shrink back to Hawaii or to the coast of California."

Dewey spoke at a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board, a business and industrial organization that sponsors fact-finding through scientific research. His speech was heard by a nation-wide radio audience.

PA. DEMOCRATS TO "WAIT, SEE"

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania Democrats took a wait-and-see attitude today on whom they will back for President this year.

A top Democratic leader, who declined quotation by name, said silence will be maintained until President Truman discloses his course of action.

"It's much too soon to say how the situation will be until the President makes up his mind about whether he will run for re-election," said the spokesman.

Pennsylvania's delegation to the 1948 Democratic convention went down the line for Truman. Former Sen. Francis J. Myers of Philadelphia even won the job of directing the writing of the Democratic platform.

There was no tangible sentiment as yet for the newly-announced candidacy of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in top Democratic elections of the state the spokesman told a newsman.

The presidential picture is likely to be reviewed informally at a meeting tonight of the 16-member Democratic State Policy Committee. The committee has been entrusted with the job of recommending the names of 20 delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago next July.

The 113-member Democratic State committee will elect the delegates-at-large at a meeting here tomorrow. A 1951 law provides for committee election of the at-large delegates instead of by direct vote of the people.

Mother, Two Kiddies Die As Home Burns

Mt. Holly, N. J., Jan. 25 (AP) — A pre-dawn fire killed a mother and two young children. Two other persons were injured in the fire at 136-116 Wall street and were reported in serious condition.

Police identified the dead as Mrs. Florence Fenimore, 32, and her daughters, Lillian, 7, and Florence, 5.

The dead woman's husband, 45, and another daughter, Mary, 13, were rushed to the Barnum hospital to hospital where their condition was reported as serious.

Mrs. Mary Breddock, 27, the dead woman's sister who lived next door, heard the blaze and rushed into the flaming structure in a rescue attempt. She was rescued by firemen and then sent to the hospital suffering from shock.

Coroner Russell Stoddard said the victims died of burns and suffocation. Fire officials attributed the general alarm blaze to a faulty portable propane heater.

WEATHERED IN—It's no wonder these camels appear a bit forlorn in the snow at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo, for it's a far cry from their usual habitat of sun and sand.

GROWING OUTDOOR HYDRANGEAS

Hardy hydrangeas rank high in popularity among flowering shrubs, yet growers generally are not sufficiently acquainted with the plant's habits and requirements to bring out its maximum beauties. Two widely prevalent mistakes contribute to failures or mediocre success. First by far is the strange desire of most hydrangea growers to produce "blue" flowers. Next, many beginners do not distinguish between the hardy outdoor species and the tender indoor strain.

As another active growing season nears it seems important to clarify the muddled waters of hydrangea bloom color. Several related facts should be stated plainly on this misunderstood phase of the subject. First, if blue is desired so greatly in the home grounds, growers should plant other ornamentals to gain the goal, such as the several blue delphiniums, larkspurs (annual), ageratums, anemones, gills, heliotropes, lobelia, myosotis, scabiosa and numerous other flowers which include blue strains. Even the darker shades of purple lilacs contribute to this end.

Second, there are a few improved sorts of hydrangeas which normally bear pinkish flowers but which, if grown in acid soils, will turn to a light shade of blue. The Otaka is an example.

Many growers with varying degrees of success gain a bluish tint for their hydrangea blooms by working a half pound of powdered alum in every two bushels of rooting soil before planting new stock or into the surrounding soils at the same rate for established plants. Many growers report a bluish shade is gained by working iron filings (from a machine shop) through the rooting soil.

But the more important fact on this score is a wiser intent for growing hydrangeas, just as other flowering shrubs are grown—for their own beauty. This inexpressible "blue" urge has not disturbed growers of viburnums, mockers and other normally white-flowering shrubs. And it seems logical to ask—Why this abnormal desire to "make" hydrangeas turn blue? Why not grow them for their own rare worth?

Hardy hydrangeas are chiefly members of the so-called PeeGee group—pampered granddaddies. The tender species sold as indoor flowering plants at Christmas and Easter will not survive in outdoor roles in this latitude.

Outdoor hydrangeas should be planted as early in the spring as soil and weather conditions permit, preferably in early March. Their ultimate beauty in terms of flowers is measured according to severity of pruning. This in turn is determined by vigor of top growth. Hence, hydrangeas should have a deeply forked mellow and well craned boom in which roots may delve unimpeded for moisture and sustenance. Full sun is desirable.

Failure to prune hydrangeas back each spring (late winter) before buds begin to swell means at least partial bloom failure. Several of the newer sorts may freeze back to the ground over winter in this latitude but will send up new shoots in the spring to produce luxurious flowers.

Invested readers may obtain a free copy of our general hydrangea care and instructions on sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to the editor with their request. Of course, all related questions will be gladly answered.

SCHEDULE OF FEBRUARY TASKS

Seed of cabbage, corn, and broccoli should be sown in a warm window box or sunny confinement or even in a mild heated first week in February for extra early plants. Morning seedlings in individual pots or bands as soon as two or three leaves form and thereafter keep them thriving in a snug cold-frame until soil and weather conditions permit final transplanting to the growing sites.

Grape vine pruning, if not already completed, should not be delayed after the first of February, lest later pruning may weaken the vines through bleeding. Readers who are uncertain about how to prune grape vines properly are invited to write the editor, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelopes, for our simple instructions.

Scales may infest all woody vines, shrubs and trees. Dormant spraying during mild periods in February is the remedy. One of the commercial oils sold for this role should be applied according to the manufacturer's directions. Or lime-sulphur may be used at the rate of one part concentrate with 7 parts water. The major fact to remember in scale combat is the factor of time—sprays strong enough to destroy scales after foliage opens will kill the foliage. Scale control is a dormant season task.

Where supplies of suitable horse or mule manure are available, hotbeds should be started early this month.

Blackberry, raspberry, dewberry, blueberry and Boysenberry plants should be ordered at once for March delivery. In the meantime prospective growers are urged to write the editor to ask all questions necessary to clear up their particular doubts in plans for starting these excellent crops.

Sow an extra early bed of leaf lettuce in a sunny coldframe in early February. Toward the last of the month this healthful vegetable may be started under a mulch cover and sown in the open around the middle of March.

Many hardy annual and perennial flowers may be started from seed sown under glass after the middle of February.

It is often wiser to set out shade trees during a mild period in February than to postpone the work until later because other crowding tasks in March may result in complete neglect. Too, fruit trees may likewise be set out during favorable weather in late February.

Every well rounded home garden should have two or more clumps of rhubarb. Roots should be ordered from a nursery at once or arrangements made to obtain old clump divisions from neighbors so planting may be done no later than early March. The editor will be glad to furnish interested gardeners copies of our rhubarb planting and care instructions free on request.

Dormant spraying is not a hit-or-miss cure-all. In most cases it is necessary to control scales; with peach trees it is additionally essential to prevent leaf curl. Too much emphasis cannot be placed at this time on elimination of all question marks from this task. The editor invites related questions.

Asparagus is truly a member of vegetable royalty and may be grown in all home gardens. Roots should be ordered at once for March delivery and planted as soon thereafter as soil and weather conditions permit.

NEW AIR RAID WARNING PLAN BEING TESTED

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP) — A new air raid warning system, capable of alerting all Pennsylvania in four to six seconds, may be in use throughout the state by spring.

The new system is being tried out in York, Dauphin, Cumberland and Perry counties on an experimental basis.

Dr. Richard Gerstell, state defense director, said that if it proves satisfactory, "we will be able to proceed with installation for the whole state by early spring."

The defense council at a meeting yesterday approved issuance of 50,000 special civilian defense tags for automobiles of qualified county defense workers. The tags will be issued in addition to regular license plates.

Order Manual Printed

In other action, it appointed Col. Edwin F. Feather, of Wayne, director of training for the state civil defense commission, and named Ross I. Webb, of Erie, as western area director of civil defense with headquarters at Pittsburgh.

A plan to purchase 12 ten-wheel half-track trucks for disaster and training work also was announced. Publication of 150,000 copies of a school civil defense manual was ordered for distribution to students.

The new air raid warning system would outshine the present system since it would alert the entire state within a matter of seconds as compared to 10 to 15 minutes. Warnings would be issued on a bell and light device to be placed in hospitals, local civil defense headquarters and other strategic local establishments. Under the system, selected key warning points would be established through the state. These would be hooked directly with an eastern air defense command post.

ASSESSMENTS

In Highland township last year the real estate was valued at $213,604 while this year's assessment is $213,560.

Sunday School Lesson

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

A HESITANT FOLLOWER
John 3:1-10; 7:45-52

Memory selection: Truly, truly I say to you, unless one is born anew he cannot see the Kingdom of God John 3:3

Nicodemus is one of the very interesting characters of the New Testament. He was a member of the Sanhedrin, the high Jewish court

He was a Pharise, one of the Jewish bodies which in religion was given to a strict observance of the law and laws that developed through the years. Antiochus Nicodemus was a notable man enjoying the respect of the leaders of his day in Israel. He is best known for his interview with Jesus.

There are divergent views of this man who came to Jesus by night, from God.

The more favorable construction on his coming at night is that he desired a private talk with Jesus at a time and place when the Master was not surrounded with crowds of people, as He usually was. Then too Nicodemus would be free from his customary duties. It is not probable that he wished to avoid the possible ridicule of his associates if they should learn of the visit. That he did seek out Jesus and come to Him for a serious discussion must be to his credit. It is likely that the disciple John was present at the interview, he alone reports the event. Note that Nicodemus was concerned that Jesus was a teacher come

Jesus came to the heart of the matter under discussion when He demanded that a man must be born anew in order to know God's kingdom. For Nicodemus that meant he must be changed by the inward grace of love, and not guided merely by law as the Pharisees believed. Then came the summary of the Gospel in the well known declaration: "For God so loved the world" (John 3:16). The requirement made of Nicodemus still stands for all who know the Kingdom and its saving grace for themselves. Genuine love is also the primary means by which to spread the Kingdom.

is the element that, if persistently applied, will bring peace to the present world, and maintain it. Police action is necessary to hold violence in check, but Police Force which seeks to bring more abundant life to all people will eventually win out.

Something Mysterious
Whether Nicodemus was converted, that is born anew, is not definitely known. But two subsequent acts are impressive. When the Pharisees tried to have Jesus seized and condemned Nicodemus spoke in His behalf: "Does our law judge a man without first giving him a hearing?" And again after the crucifixion Nicodemus brought myrrh (Please Turn to Page 8)

YOUNG PHILOSOPHER

You can have your Plato and your Socrates. I have my own philosophy, and I think it's pretty good.

The way I see life . . . you have to grow. You have to be a little bit bigger tomorrow than you are today. Otherwise, you'll never become the man your father wants you to be.

The trouble with a lot of people is that they stopped growing a long time ago. They figured when their bodies stopped growing, their souls might as well stop too.

Now that's a shame. 'Cause when the body is full grown, the soul is only partly grown. In fact it's still so undeveloped that if a man doesn't let his soul keep on growing, he'll soon begin to wonder whether he has a soul at all.

There's a Church down the street where I go to keep my soul growing. Why don't you come with me . . . every Sunday. Remember what I said — you have to grow or you'll never become the man your FATHER wants you to be.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the good of the Church. The Church needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BEY OF TUNIS IS ORDERED TO RESTORE ORDER

HEAR FORMER NAVY OFFICER

Herbert Bryan, a teacher in the New Oxford high school and a former commander in the navy, was the guest speaker at the second January meeting of the Littlestown Lions club held jointly with the Glen Rock club on Thursday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran church. During his naval career, Mr. Bryan spent some time at the Kuluop leper colony on the island of Molokai, Hawaii, while serving with the air intelligence. The speaker told of his meeting on a plane with the late Ernie Pyle, only two weeks before Mr. Pyle died from a sniper's bullet. During his encounter with Mr. Pyle, the speaker was asked by him to look up a friend of his at the leper colony. Mr. Bryan then related to the Lions the work that is being done there and the prevailing conditions.

Prior to the program which was in charge of the Membership committee composed of Robert L. Crouse, Sr., William S. Menges, Marvin F. Breighner and John D. Basehoar, the local members and approximately 50 Lions from the Glen Rock club were served a full course roast turkey dinner by the Ladies' Aid society of St. John's church. Mr. Breighner acted as toastmaster and introduced William Bollinger, president of the Glen Rock club, who spoke briefly. Deputy District Governor Keller of the guest club also spoke briefly. A contest on current events was then held with four Lions representing each club. The Glen Rock club won the quiz.

Following the program, the regular meeting of the board of directors was held with the club president, Clayton L. Evans, in charge. Walter C. Myers was received into the local group membership. The following contributions were voted: $100 to the Littlestown high school band uniform fund; $25 to the March of Dimes; $5 to the Adams County Free Library; and $5 to the Adams County Child Welfare society.

Plans were discussed to hold a joint meeting with the Littlestown Rotary club on Wednesday, February 6, at which time the clubs will entertain the local Boy Scout troops. The meeting will be held in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed church. Henry E. Waltman was selected to represent the Lions and meet with Stanley B. Stover and Charles E. Ritter of the Rotary, to arrange for this meeting.

BEY OF TUNIS IS ORDERED TO RESTORE ORDER

HEAR FORMER NAVY OFFICER

Tunis, Tunisia, Jan. 25 (AP) — The Thursday to the Bey of Tunis demanding that he help restore order in this seething protectorate, where 10 days of rioting have claimed at least 50 lives.

Jean de Hauteclocque, the French resident general, called on the bey at his palace. The bey was told that unless he takes steps to avoid further bloodshed, the French will be compelled to take even stiffer military measures than are under way now.

The French rushed heavy reinforcements of gendarmes and troops into trouble spots throughout Tunisia, where Arab Nationalists are clamoring for more independence from France.

Pleads Illness

The bey, Sidi Mohamed Al Amin, has been sympathetic to the Nationalist demands. Earlier in the week he had refused to see the resident general, pleading illness.

Official sources put the death toll in the more than a week of rioting at 44 Tunisians and six French killed. They said more than 150 Tunisians and 20 French were wounded.

Unconfirmed reports said 20 more Tunisians had been killed late yesterday in continued rioting at Moknine, 120 miles southeast of Tunis. Three French police were slain at Moknine.

Tunisian sources claimed two French police were killed in Tunis this morning. This was denied by the French, who said one Arab was killed during the night.

In apparent preparation for a get-tough policy, isolated French colonists were moved from small communities to larger population centers. Those from Moknine were brought into Sousse, where French naval commandos landed yesterday from the gunboat Elan. Another group of commandos went ashore at Sfax, still farther down the jagged east coast line of Tunisia.

The French cancelled a public funeral at Sousse for Col. Norbert Durand, French military commander of the Sousse area who was killed in the fighting there.

and aloe and aided in embalming the body of Jesus.

Something mysterious surrounds Nicodemus and his attitude towards Christ. In this respect he is like numerous men of our day. He had great respect for Jesus and showed that regard as we have noted. But whether later he became a disciple, in secret or openly, is not definitely known. It may be that he went only half the way. For his inquiry about the things of the Kingdom he is to be commended. It is interesting to speculate what would have happened had he gone all the way and openly made a stand for Christ. Had he spoken up in the Sanhedrin other members might have stood with him. Had he associated with Christ. His last days on earth would have been less dreary, even if the Cross could not have been averted.

What our world needs is men and women Christians who are ready to go all the way. By such people the Gospel was preached and the Church established in those early and dangerous years. Again we live in uncertain times. They call for men to stand up and be counted on the side of Jesus Christ. To so stand it is essential to be renewed constantly. Hesitant disciples do not make their best possible contributions in our or in any day. Outspoken and resolute Christians will be found on the side of every great cause, will attract others to take a similar stand, and for themselves will win the highest satisfactions of life—the approval of God and their own conscience.

SUN SELDOM SHINES ON HIM

Los Angeles, Jan. 25 (AP)—When ever Los Angeles needs rain—and it doesn't at the moment—all it has to do is call on G. N. Morrow of Pittsburgh, Pa. For him the sun never shines, apparently.

Morrow arrived home last Wednesday from a visit to southern California and promptly wrote a letter to the chamber of commerce.

In 1930, he said, he made his first visit to Los Angeles. The season's first rain began the morning he arrived and quit when he left town five days later.

In 1936 he was here again for three days. It rained three days. In October, 1940, he tried once more. It rained three days. In October, 1940, he tried once more. It poured. When he came out in January, 1950, it rained—and snowed! Last week he paid his fifth visit. It came down in torrents and caused the worst flood in 14 years. He also visited Miami, Fla., one time, he said, and provoked rain for 14 consecutive days.

Morrow, who is vice president of the L. B. Foster Co., in Pittsburgh, now wants to know if he attracts rain the way a magnet does steel. If so, does the chamber think this ability has commercial possibilities? And when should he visit California again?

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP) — All Pennsylvania railroad trains must come to a full stop before crossing Route 72 in Pequea township, Lancaster county, under a new Public Utility Commission order.

The PUC also directed yesterday that a crewman, equipped with proper signal devices, stop highway traffic and precede the train over the crossing. The order is in compliance with an agreement for such protection drawn up by township supervisors and the state Highway department; the commission said.

"Out of thin air" comes the

in Buick history

NOTE FROM YOUR BUICK DEALER:

Presented here is the story of a great new engine development, as told by the men who did the job. We reprint the story here in its entirety—as we couldn't beat it if we tried.

No, we didn't have to build a new engine to do it.

We took Buick's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which makes the most of high compression. We drew on 12 patient years of Buick carburetion research.

And we came up with more might, more miles, from gas—right out of thin air, in more ways than one.

When you talk about "miles per gallon" you think of fuel. That's what you buy. But air's free—and for every gallon of gasoline, a busy engine can gulp more than 8,000 gallons of air.

The problem is to deliver air in the right proportions, throughout the full range of speeds at which you drive.

A carburetor—big enough to supply the air needed at full throttle—can be wasteful in stop-and-go driving.

A carburetor sized for thrift in city traffic literally smothers your engine when you really give it the gun.

So Buick engineers came up with the Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—and here's how it works.

Loading along, two barrels are working, two stay closed. And you get a low-speed thrust and smoothness that's out of this world.

As you pick up speed, the "stand-bys" smoothly come into play—feeding not just more gas, but more air too—which means that you keep on getting maximum power from each drop of fuel.

You have 170 effortless horsepower when you need it—a tremendous reserve ready to go into instant action at the nudge of your toe.

You have the satisfaction of knowing that you get this power with a frugal use of gas. At 40 you use less gas than you formerly used at 30.

That's the story of Airpower carburetion in factory facts and figures.

But statistics can't tell you the breathtaking joy of heading for new horizons in a great-powered new ROADMASTER.

Better come in soon. Lots of other folks are flocking into our showroom these days to see the greatest array of new Buicks we've had in years.

Sure is true for '52

RECORDER WON'T COLLECT TAX

Stroudsburg, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Monroe county's recorder of deeds has turned thumbs down on an appointment to collect as part of his county job—the state's new real estate transfer tax.

Floyd Butz, who also is recorder of wills here, said he would lose money if he undertook the state assignment.

The tax, one per cent of the price of all real estate sold or transferred, was part of the compromise package whipped up by the Legislature last month, to balance the state budget after the Senate rejected a state income tax proposal.

One provision of the bill, which Gov. John S. Pine signed into law, was that collection was to be made through the county recorder of deeds. It specified that the recorder was to receive a share of the tax to compensate them for the extra work.

Butz, believed to be the first county official in the state to refuse to collect the tax, said he acted on the advice of his attorney.

Butz said that to do the work he would have to take out an additional surety bond, costing $70, and would have to hire extra help to file the required reports etc.

Because of these added costs, Butz, continued, property transfers totaling $1,400,000 would have to be recorded in Monroe county before he could break even for any year, and he doesn't expect any total that high.

TRUMAN'S PLAN WINS 1ST ROUND

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—President Truman's proposal to put tax collectors under civil service and reorganize Thursday.

By a vote reported as unanimous, the House Expenditures committee rejected a resolution that would have disapproved the reorganization plan. The action is subject to a vote of the full House membership next week.

The vote means the committee will

Body Is Removed From Potter's Field

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Buried in a Brooklyn "Potter's field" last fall, the body of Harry C. Smith was reinterred Thursday in a manner more fitting to ownership of a half-million dollar fortune.

Smith, 54, a shabbily dressed recluse who lived in a junk-filled house which contained almost everything but a bed, died October 24 in Kings county hospital. Apparently penniless and with no known kin, he was buried in a pauper's grave.

Wednesday, police disclosed that Smith owned a safe deposit vault at the Pioneer warehouse in Brooklyn. In it was a fortune in stocks, bonds and 36 bankbooks issued in 10 names. The bankbooks showed a record of $275,000 cash on deposit in savings institutions in all parts of the country. Smith rented the safe deposit box in 1914. No will was found.

The reburial was sanctioned yesterday by Kings county Public Administrator Hyman Wank. Wank also got a writ in Surrogate's court putting him in charge of the estate until a will or direct heirs show up.

recommend that the House allow the reorganization to go through.

The plan was submitted to Congress under a general government reorganization law which provides that such plans become effective 60 days after their submission unless the Senate or the House adopts, meantime, a resolution of disapproval. The deadline in this case is March 14.

Administration supporters in Congress have contended all along that the House would not disapprove the plan. They have said there is some doubt, however, as to what the Senate may do. When the Senate may act is still indefinite.

SEEK TO CLEAR POST-TREATY JAP RELATIONS

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The United States will insist on defining its post-treaty military relations with Japan before the peace document becomes effective.

This stand will be conveyed to Japanese Prime Minister Yoshida by Special Ambassador Dean Rusk and Assistant Secretary of the Army Earl Johnson after they reach Tokyo today.

Got Truman's Consent
The Defense department obtained President Truman's consent to this procedure before Gen. Omar Bradley outlined it to the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which is holding hearings on the treaty ratification. Committee members generally seemed inclined to go along with Defense department recommendations on the point.

American military leaders want the operating agreement in hand before the treaty becomes law so as to avoid giving Japan any temptation to play the post-treaty ambassador off against the U.S. military commander in the islands.

The military administrative agreement, as defense officials see it, must also provide the American military chief with direct access to appropriate Japanese authorities, whenever it is desired to avoid complicated and possibly prolonged diplomatic negotiations.

On the practical military side, the working agreement must also obviate the possibility that U.S. troops might become the victims of some future Japanese government, which might try to make local political capital out of harassing the Americans.

The working agreement will also spell out the prime U.S. strategic interest in building Japan as a bulwark against further Communist expansion in the western Pacific. This means bases, both naval and air.

Pending the time when Japan can do more toward protecting herself, it also means specific provision for U.S. forces, such as the First Cavalry Division in the northern island of Hokkaido and anti-aircraft units now manning their guns on the other islands, to protect Japan against invasion.

PORT TIED UP
Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—A shutdown of stevedoring operations Thursday tied up the port of Philadelphia, idling some 65,000 AFL workers. The tieup extended from Trenton, N. J., on the extreme north of the Delaware river port area to Wilmington, Del., on the south. Union leaders branded the unexpected "lockout" but spokesmen for the stevedoring companies that hire the longshoremen said the union had violated the labor contract and forced the halt of longshore operations.

Bury Patterson In Arlington On Friday

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—The body of former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, a victim of the Elizabeth, N. J., plane crash Tuesday, lay in state Thursday in the 107th Regiment armory here with a military honor guard.

Last night, the body was taken by train to Washington for burial tomorrow in Arlington National cemetery.

Funeral services will be held at the National cathedral of the Episcopal church in the capital.

Patterson, who was 60 years old, resigned as Secretary of War in 1947.

TO KEEP POLITICS OUT OF DEFENSE, TRUMAN SAYS

President Truman today said that "if anybody is to play politics with the welfare of this country, it will not be the Democratic party."

His remarks were contained in a message to a 15-state midwest Democratic conference opening today.

"This year of 1952 will be a critical year in our struggle to achieve world peace," he said. "We are in the middle of a great national effort to build our defenses and help free nations to strengthen themselves. If we falter now or lose heart and turn aside from the program we have laid out for ourselves, we can fail."

He added: "My purpose in this election year—and I am sure the purpose of every loyal Democrat—is to make sure that the Democratic party continues to work for the strength of our country and the welfare of our people."

His message was in the form of a letter to Conference Chairman James C. Quayle of Nebraska.

May Try To Draft Truman
It came amid speculation that Mr. Truman (1) will run for the Senate in Missouri at the end of his term, (2) is a candidate for re-election and (3) he wants to name his successor.

Out of this confusion one salient fact stood out. Lacking any other recourse they consider: especially attractive, midwestern leaders want Mr. Truman to run again.

At the risk of possible future dissent, three leaders of the midwestern meeting predicted the conference would go on record unanimously approving a resolution urging the President to seek another term.

Buried In Old Well He Had Just Cleaned

Fouke, Ark., Jan. 25 (AP)—Clyde Kemp had just cleaned away the last bit of tile from the abandoned well on his farm near here. He stood at the bottom of the 21-foot deep shaft and waited for a rope to pull him to the surface.

Then the walls gave way, and the 36-year-old farmer was buried in the cave-in of dirt and clay.

That was shortly before noon yesterday. About six hours later, after neighbors and rescue workers dug frantically with their hands and shovels, Kemp's body was removed from the well.
